Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-3,5-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tsai et al in view of Ochi.

Tsai et al. discloses a musical apparatus which comprises a main body (Fig. 1), a keyboard 4A, synthesizer 7, memory unit 3, display unit 6A, where lyrics are displayed (Fig. 4A). Tsai et al does not explicitly teach the displaying of lyrics contained in the memory unit in a predetermined synchronization with actuation of the keyboard. Ochi discloses a music score display device which comprises the displaying of lyrics contained in the memory unit in a predetermined synchronization with actuation of the keyboard (Fig. 3). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to adapt the teachings of Tsai et al with those of Ochi, so as to allow for more automatic display of the user data.

Claims 4,9,10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tsai et al in view of Ochi, and further in view of Akimoto et al.

The Tsai/Ochi combination as described above discloses all features claimed except for the pop-up display or microphone. Akimoto et al discloses an electronic musical instrument which comprises a pop-up display and microphone (see especially, Figs. 1,5,10,18,19, pop-up screen 80). It would have been obvious to adapt the Tsai/Ochi combination with those of Akimoto et al, as to make the device more portable and conducive to use with a singer.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Paulson et al (USP 5521323) is further cited to show related teachings in the art.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
